

Contents

Note on Contributors	07
Editorial Note	09
Mustafa Feiruz
Theorizing Stability of Somali State: In the light of the Comprehensive Perspective of Somali Studies	11
Abdurahman Abdullahi ‘Baadiyow’
Methods and Tools of Unification of Somali Laws in Light of the Provisional Federal Constitution of Somalia	56
Salim Said Salim
Domestication of International Treaties in the Somali Constitutional Framework	78
Hassan Nur Halane
Drawing the Territorial Boundaries of the Somalia Federal Member States: Gaps, Challenges and Legal Frameworks	94
Arafat Ali Mohamed
Managing Market Fire Outbreaks in Somalia: Case Study of Bakara Market in Mogadishu	119
Fatima Aden Eidle
Turkish-Somalia Relations in Agriculture and Livestock Sectors	133
Bashir Ahmed Maow
Exploring Oral Poetry in the Somali Novel ‘Ignorance is the Enemy of Love’	151
Abdilahi Ismail Abdilahi & Pei Likun

Note on Contributors

Abdurahman Abdullahi (Baadiyow), PhD, is a scholar, activist and politician with an MA and PhD in Modern Islamic History from McGill University, Canada. He has made significant contributions to Somali studies, and actively participated in academic conferences and has published number of books, book chapters and articles in English, Arabic and Somali. Among his notable publications are 'Recovering the Somali State: Islam, Islamism, and Transitional Justice' (2016), 'Making Sense of Somali History' Volume I (2017) and Volume II (2018), both volumes translated into Arabic. Currently he is the Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Mogadishu University. He was a presidential candidate in the 2012 election in Somalia.

Salim Said Salim is a legal expert with L.L.B. from East Africa University, Somalia, and L.L.M. specializing in public law accompanied by a master's degree in education. From 2011 to 2013, he served as the dean of law at Puntland State University in Somalia. Over the years, he has taught constitutional law, human rights, administrative law and criminal law at the university. Salim has provided legal advisory services to various international organizations in Somalia and several state and federal ministries. Presently, he is the Executive Director at the Somali Institute for Development and Research Analysis (SIDRA), where he previously served as a research fellow.

Hassan Nur Halane, a legal expert and researcher based in Mogadishu, holds a Master of Comparative Laws from the International Islamic University Malaysia (IIUM), and is currently a Ph.D. candidate in International Law and Treaty Law at Euclid University. He previously held the position of dean at SIMAD University and served as a law lecturer at both Mogadishu University and SIMAD University. He can be reached via email at bahdo82@gmail.com.

Arafat Ali Mohamed is an advocate and legal consultant. He holds a Master of Arts in Federalism; and a Master of Arts in Project Management and a Bachelor of Laws. Arafat is interested in federalism studies, the development of the Somali legal system, and constitution building and reconciliation. He can be reached via email: arafatalimoha@gmail.com.

Fatima Aden Eidle is an organizational development and emergency response consultant. She holds a Master in Development Studies and a Master of Project Management. She participated in several conferences and published articles. Fatima is interested in social development issues. Fatima can be connected at email umukiin@gmail.com.

Bashir Ahmed Maow holds an MSc in Agriculture Structures and Irrigation from Ondokuz Mayıs University, Samsun, Türkiye; and a BSc in Agriculture Science from Benadir University, Somalia. His research focuses on agriculture, food security, water resources management, climate change-related hazards and transboundary water management.

Abdilahi Ismail Abdilahi, PhD, is a lecturer at Beijing Foreign Studies University and is also an African Sinologist member of both the ‘World Sinologist Council at Beijing Language and Culture University’ and ‘Consortium for Country and Area Studies (CCAS)’. His research interests encompass the Somali language, African Studies, and Sino-African Relations. He has authored several publications, including ‘Spoken Somali’, the first Chinese-Somali language textbook.

Pei Likun, holds a master degree in interpreting from the School of International Studies, University of International Business and Economics (China). She serves at Shandong University. Her current research focuses on translating traditional Chinese literary works.